

State of Mind

High performance teams

High productivity

Innovation

Improvement

Great Results

Score high on indexes of sense of wellbeing

relate to their job

co-workers

customers

interact with

Determines the way workers

Most impact

If you concentrate only on this emphasis of development

Live

Work

the psychological environment that each person creates for him/herself and in which they circumstances

conditions

independent of

Because it's the product of a person's thinking

1. solve problems

2. make decision

3. navigate changes

4. create high performance team individuals exhibit, their ability to the most fundamental variable determining the degree of resiliency whether positive or negative

mental clarity

well-being

State of mind of

Unlimited potential within all of us

long lasting

and wide-ranging organizational change a program that targets this critical variable can produce the most

Cheryl Bond - Randall's notes from a talk